FOOTBALL 78

Football and the University

Oregon is on the way back to football prowess. The early years of rebuilding under Coach Brooks' leadership will be tough ones, because of exceptionally demanding schedules.

No matter what the outcome of individual games may be, fans will be treated to the spectacle of exciting football played by student athletes who are dedicated to restoring pride in Oregon.

May those of us who care, respond to their efforts with our own loyal support! That is one of the requirements for success.

Oregon's 1978 Outlook

The following is a long-range outlook, written in the spring. A capsule summary of prospects is followed by a position-by-position evaluation by Coach Rich Brooks.

CAPSULE SUMMARY:

Despite the air of optimism clearly evident in Oregon's football office, it has been only one year since the rebuilding program began. So too many question marks remain for anyone to justify a prediction of a winning season after seven straight losing campaigns.

But the signs of progress are there: an outstanding recruiting year, both in the addition of five junior college standouts (including two first team all-Americans) and a freshman class of great promise, plus the positive effects of a full-time weight and strength adviser, whose impact was evident in increased size, strength and confidence among squad members in spring practice.

But the test is yet to come, beginning against powerful Colorado in the opener, Sept. 9, at Boulder. While the Ducks may not yet be ready to dominate the line of scrimmage, the offensive and defensive lines are likely areas of clear improvement. The key remains in the two backfields, where the offense must establish a sustained attack and the secondary must rebuild around all-America candidate, Strong Safety Kenny Bryant.

On offense the important answers must come at quarterback and tailback. Quarterback Mike Kennedy, who redshirted last year after having transferred to Oregon, has a powerful, accurate arm that can be a major weapon. But he lacks experience. His ability to assert himself, take command and look to receivers other than the primary one still are to be established. In reserve are sophomore Dan Daly, who backed the graduated Jack Henderson last year, and a trio of promising freshmen. But the key is Kennedy. If he produces, the Ducks could take wing early as a team that can maintain offensive pressure.

Tailback remained a puzzle during the spring because the two returnees, Senior Ed Radcliff and Sophomore Don Davis, missed most of practice because of injuries. They will have to ward off the challenge of several highly-touted freshman prospects, including heavily-recruited Reggie Young and Dwight Robertson.

Bryant can't cover the secondary alone, but he appears to have gained some solid support in JC transfers Rock Richmond, a first team all-America, and Jerome Covington, who figure to man the corners.

The Ducks still are another recruiting season away from solid depth at every position. But they appear to have it now in the offensive line anchored by senior all-America candidate, Tackle Bill Hoffman, and at fullback, where Jeff Wood and Vince Williams will duel for No. 1. They also have three returning starters at linebacker—Willie Blasher, Bruce Beekley and Bryan Hinkle—to smooth the transition from the 5-2 to the 4-3 alignment. Then there's an experienced tho still young defensive line—led by Tackle Vince Goldsmith—that figures to show solid advancement over last year.

It's a new league—now the Pac-10—and if the Ducks can come up with the answers in their areas of prime concern, Oregon football could sport a new image to go with it.

Quotes from Coach Rich Brooks

OFFENSIVE LINE: I think it will be improved. There will be some important new faces there, like that of Jamey Mathews, bigger and much improved in the spring. Center Steve Kleffner will be back, recovered from the injury that kept him out of all but the opener last year. Bill Hoffman, Pat McDougall, Pete Laughlin and Steve Greatwood all are proven veterans. We'll be stronger in depth. There will be better people backing up the starters. If somebody goes down, we will be in a better position to handle it. We'll be pretty solid, two deep, across the line. That includes tight end, where Tim Beyer gave us the best blocking of the past two years during spring practice. Our returning letterman there, Dan Clark, has been improved by the challenge of Beyer and of Greg Hogensen, who was redshirted last year.

QUARTERBACK: We're an unknown quantity here. Mike Kennedy has a definite edge because of his arm, which gives him a clear advantage as a thrower. The uncertainty is over the fact that Mike has never before played at this level. Dan Daly has improved his throwing ability twofold since last season, and is stronger because of having added 12 pounds. We have three freshmen (Andrew Page, Kevin Lusk, Wilson Pica), all of whom have the capability of becoming factors for us this year.

RUNNING BACKS: Fullback is our deepest and most complete position. Both of our veterans showed spring improvement. Jeff Wood has improved his balance, and he and Vince Williams are quality players. Then, out of the blue, a guy like Rich Clough comes along to become a factor. Tailback is something else: another unknown quantity. Our two returnees, Ed Radcliff and Don Davis, were hurt most of the spring. Some of our freshmen are bound to make that position very competitive. Tailback is the key to our having an improved running game. The freshmen who should help are Reggie Young, Dwight Robertson, Tim Tyler and Charles Bisharat.

DEFENSIVE LINE: We're improved here because of a successful change in alignment (from 5-2 to 4-3) and because those who played well last year are back bigger and stronger. It's still a young area of our team, with key people who played a lot as freshmen and sophomores. Vince Goldsmith, who started every game as a freshman, should be one of the league's best at tackle. Neil Elshire and Scott Setterlund have added 15 pounds each at tackle, End Terry Dion is up to 265 and a junior college transfer, Mike Kesler, who should be about 240 pounds, looked like a possible starter in spring practice. We're hoping Rudy Bryan, who saw a lot of action the past two years, will come back strong from spring knee surgery, but we're uncertain when he'll be ready. Letterman Rick Price and two JC transfers, Paul Clay and Sherman Anderson, will provide depth. We also were encouraged in the spring with the improvement of Randy Ficco at end.

LINEBACKER: Our starters in the new alignment all are experienced first stringers, with Willie Blasher and Bryan Hinkle playing on either side of Bruce Beekley. Also back is Tom Webb, who has started on occasion. Additional depth comes from Jim Arriaran, who has an edge because he was with us in spring practice, and Ed Hagerty, Clifford Gibson and Andy Vobara—all freshmen.

CORNERBACK: As a unit, the secondary is an unknown quantity, but we feel we have recruited some skilled people. Rock Richmond, like Kesler at tackle, a junior college all-America, had an outstanding spring and should start at cornerback. Tim Smith and Jerome Covington will battle for the other spot with veteran, Rick Hudnell. A fine freshman, Ken Lawler, also will be a factor.

SAFETY: Kenny Bryant, who was honorable mention all-America last year, makes us solid at strong safety. He'll be backed by Jim Johnson, our leading rusher two years ago, who has adapted well to defense, by an improved Joe Figures and a newcomer, Randy Zimmerman. Free safety is up in the air. Tim Durando, who played there two years ago, has been shifted back, after playing quarterback last year. Mike Nolan moved in front at that position during the spring, even though he missed the first two weeks of practice. A returning player with game action behind him is Butch Rudolph.

SPECIALTY TEAMS: We will have Richmond and possibly Durando returning kicks, and also take a close look at some of the freshmen with speed (Young, Robertson, Lowe).

CANDIDATES FOR HONORS: I think we have three seniors who are likely to merit national attention: Offensive Guard Bill Hoffman, Strong Safety Kenny Bryant and Linebacker Willie Blasher. Another, Offensive Tackle Pete Laughlin, could be in the same category, if he comes back strong from surgery. Though he's just a sophomore, Vince Goldsmith, now at defensive tackle after starting last year at middle guard, deserves the same consideration. Our top receiver, Kenny Page, will rate attention if he produces like last year, when he caught 40 passes. Evenly matched as our top fullbacks are, if either Jeff Wood or Vince Williams clearly takes over that assignment, he'll have to merit strong consideration. We have some players who are "sleepers," and their performances will determine what recognition they get.

Coaching Staff

RICH BROOKS Head Coach

Rich Brooks didn't win all the games he wanted to in his first season as Oregon head coach last year. But the way his out-manned squad performed in the face of consistently heavy odds reassured Ducks followers that progress had been made toward Rich's stated goal of producing a winner in Eugene.

That was evident in early games, when the Ducks carried the fight to heavily-favored opponents such as Georgia (defending SEC champion), Wisconsin (then undefeated) and Stanford (an eventual bowl team), staying in those games until the closing minutes of play.

Brooks, who will be 37 on Aug. 20, resurrected the "big play" for the Ducks last year, as they produced their longest pass and rushing plays in recent years. But in 1978, Brooks, the 28th head coach in the 85-year history of Oregon football, is after fewer moral victories and more tangible ones in the wins column.

Rich came to Oregon from UCLA, where he was assistant coach in charge of outside linebackers and special teams. But he's no stranger to the state of Oregon. He is a 1963 graduate of Oregon State University, where he lettered as a QB-DH. He served as a graduate assistant coach at OSU while earning his Master's Degree in education. Then, after a year of high school coaching at Notre Del Rio in Sacramento, Cal., he returned to Corvallis as an assistant coach for the Beavers from 1965 through 1969.

Rich moved to UCLA as linebacker coach in 1970, then made the shift to the professional game as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams (special teams and fundamentals) for the 1971-72 seasons. He returned to Oregon State as defensive coordinator in 1973, then moved back to the pros with the San Francisco 49'ers as special teams coach (1974) and with the added assignment with the defensive backs in 1975. His subsequent season with UCLA was the final stepping stone to the head position with the Ducks.

He attended high school in Grass Valley, Cal. (Nevada Union), where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Rich and his wife, Karen, have two daughters, Kasey, 14, and Kerri, 12, and a son, Brady, 8.

Rich has been a valued assistant under such successful coaches as Dick Nolan, Terry Donahue, Tommy Prothro and Dee Andros. He acknowledges the influence of each on his development. But, as he clearly states:

"I am Rich Brooks and will coach like I coach, and will not try to emulate any of the men I coached under. Oregon has—despite the hard times of recent seasons—a rich football tradition. There's no reason why it can't be that way again."

JOHN BECKER

Offensive Coordinator & Quarterbacks/Receivers

The "new look" in Oregon's offensive approach is the handiwork of its new offensive coordinator, John Becker. His concepts produced the "big plays" that added a new element of excitement to Oregon football last year. John came from Los Angeles Valley College, the largest community college in the country, where in 1975 he was named Metro Conference Coach of the Year. In three seasons there he had a record of 17-10-1, transforming Valley from a consistent loser into a big winner. He started coaching at Crespi High School (Cal.) following graduation from Cal State (Northridge) in 1965. He was named to the UCLA staff in 1970, becoming offensive coordinator at New Mexico State in 1971. He coached quarterbacks and receivers at New Mexico University in 1972 and 1973, before taking the position at Los Angeles Valley.

HOWARD (TIP) TIPPETT

Defensive Coordinator and Linebackers

Tip Tippet brings 15 years of coaching experience (and a stockpile of funny stories) to Rich Brooks' staff. Tip was captain of the East Tennessee State University team while playing quarterback and safety. After five years as a high school coach in Texas and Kentucky, he began his college career as secondary coach for Tulane in 1963. He was linebacker coach at Houston from 1966 to 1970, when he became defensive coordinator at West Virginia. He moved to Mississippi State as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator in 1972, then moved in 1974 to Jacksonville of the World Football League as defensive coordinator. He returned to the college level as defensive coordinator and chief recruiter for Washington State in 1976.

ANDY CHRISTOFF

Linebackers

The Northwest has long been a part of Andy Christoff's background. His assignment as linebacker coach for the Ducks brought him back to familiar territory, as he previously had coached at Albany High School and on the staff at Oregon State.

He began his coaching career at Hoquiam High School (Wash.) in 1967. A year later he moved to Albany, before moving up to OSU in 1969. In 1970 he became secondary coach at the University of Idaho, where he had lettered in football. There have been only four winning football teams at Idaho. Andy played on one and coached two. He assumed the same post at New Mexico State in 1972, and a year later moved to the University of New Mexico as secondary coach and recruiting coordinator. The next year he was elevated to assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at his alma mater, where he was coaching when the invitation came from Rich Brooks.

RON HUDSON

Recruiting Coordinator & Running Backs

Prime responsibility for the recruiting techniques that must help rebuild the Oregon football program belongs to Ron Hudson, who has been given the dual assignments of recruiting coordinator and running back coach. Hudson was chiefly responsible for the surprising measure of 1977 recruiting success the Ducks had, despite the late start of their new staff. His approach to coaching is based primarily on his experience on the staffs of John Ralston at Stanford and Mike White at California, where he helped develop passing greats, Steve Bartkowski and Joe Roth. He played tight end while with the San Diego marines. He was hired away from Cal, his alma mater.

MILT JACKSON

Defensive Backfield

Milt Jackson, who was a grid star and high pro draft choice in a territory where they throw the ball a lot—the Southwest—is Oregon's defensive backfield coach. Milt, who played his collegiate ball at Tulsa University, was No. 6 draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1967. Three years later he began his coaching career at Grant High School in Sacramento. He followed the coaching pattern of Rich Brooks by serving as a graduate assistant at Oregon State in 1972 and 1973. He moved to Rice in 1974, coaching the running backs. He moved to Cal for the next two seasons, serving as defensive end coach, before getting the summons to join the Ducks.

BOB McCRAY

Offensive Line

Bob McCray parlayed a brilliant career as a junior college coach into the opportunity to coach top echelon football that led him to the University of Oregon as offensive line coach. It was in 1972 that Bob led his Columbia Basin Junior College team (Pasco, Wash.) to an 8-1-1 record and 12th place in the national rankings. That earned him an appointment as offensive line coach at the University of New Mexico in 1973. The following year he took on the added responsibility of recruiting coordinator. A native of Spokane, Bob was an All-Big Sky guard in 1966 for the University of Idaho. He also was conference wrestling runnerup in the heavyweight division. He spent one year as assistant football coach and head wrestling coach at Orting (Wash.) High School, before joining the University of Hawaii as football assistant in 1968 and 1969. In 1970 he joined Columbia Basin.

JOE SCHAFFELD

Defensive Line

Joe Schaffeld is the link between the past and the present for the Oregon coaching staff. He is the lone carryover from the 1976 Ducks staff, for which he coached the linebackers. Joe also is a link with one of the great seasons of Oregon football history, having been a starting guard on the 1958 Rose Bowl team. A native of Vale, Joe lettered in football two years at Boise Junior College before enrolling at Oregon. His coaching career started in 1960 at Sutherlin High School. He coached the next two years at Roseburg High School and the next three at Portland's Central Catholic, before becoming defensive coordinator at Willamette University in 1966. He became head coach at Willamette in 1972, then joined the Oregon staff in 1974.

BILL TARROW

Offensive Line

It was homecoming for Bill Tarrow, when he accepted Rich Brooks' offer of the position of offensive line coach for the Ducks. Tarrow was an end on the Oregon teams of 1955 and 1956, playing under Coach Len Casanova. He has the distinction of being hired by the man who once served on his staff. Brooks coached under Tarrow in 1964 at Sacramento's Notre Del Rio High School. In 15 years as head coach at Norte Del Rio, Tarrow compiled a record of 92-49-8. His 1967 team was undefeated, earning Tarrow appointment as head coach of the Optimist team in the Northern California post-season all-star game.

MIKE FLYNT

Strength Specialist

One of Rich Brooks' chief concerns when he took over as head man was the strength program at Oregon. That concern resulted in the creation of the position, and Athletic Director John Caine tabbed Mike Flynt, an assistant to University of Nebraska Strength and Conditioning Coach Boyd Epley, to fill the new job.

A 1971 graduate of Sul Ross (Tex.) State, Flynt played football at the University of Arkansas. He has 14 years experience in organized weight training programs, and has competed at the national level.

NICK ALIOTTI

Graduate Assistant

One of the newest members of the Oregon coaching staff is Nick Aliotti, graduate assistant working with the running backs. Aliotti, a 1975 graduate of the University of California at Davis, coached the running backs at his alma mater for two years before joining the Oregon staff.

He played football four years at Davis, including three seasons on varsity. In high school, he played only defense, but in college he switched to the running back position. In his first game in the offensive backfield, his first carry turned into a 75 yard touchdown.

His best game on varsity was against Portland State when he ran for three touchdowns.

LARRY BARROS

Graduate Assistant

Larry Barros will be working with the offensive line in this, his second year on the Oregon coaching staff. He is pursuing a master's degree in physical education.

After having won numerous honors as a tight end in the Central California Far Western Conference as a prepster, Barros entered American River Junior College, then transferred to California State University at Sacramento.

He coached one year of high school football as an undergraduate and was on the CSU-Sacramento staff for two years following his graduation in 1974.

In addition, he is a player-coach for the Sacramento Buffaloes in a semi-pro summer football league.

BARRY LAMB

Graduate Assistant

Barry Lamb, in his second season as a graduate assistant, assists with the offensive line. He was a junior college All-American at Santa Barbara City College, later playing at Utah and JV basketball at Oregon. His Bachelor's Degree is in history.

PAUL HANSEN

Graduate Assistant

Paul Hansen joined the Oregon staff in 1977, after three years of coaching at North Eugene High School. A native of Cottage Grove, he assists with the defensive backs. Paul played at the Air Force Academy, before transferring to Oregon, where he received a Bachelor's Degree in history.

GREG BRINER

Graduate Assistant

Greg Briner is in his second season as a graduate assistant for the Ducks. A quarterback during his days at Southern Cal, Greg assists with the receivers at Oregon. He is a native of Los Angeles, and is working toward an advanced degree in physical education.

Player Sketches

(In alphabetical order)

(Asterisks indicate letters won)

72 *ANDERSON, KEVIN: OG, 6-5, 240, Jr., Florence (Ht. Hood CC)—Coach's comments: "At :04.7 in the 40, Kevin is the team's fastest lineman. He redshirted last year. He's the most improved drive blocker on the team over last year, and that's due to his increase in strength and weight (24 pounds). Is battling for a starting strong guard spot, and will play a lot this year. He played tight end at Mt. Hood."

97 ANDERSON, SHERMAN: DT, 6-3, 244, Jr., Broderick, Cal. (Col. of Sisk. JC)—Coach's comments: "Sherman has good quickness and speed, but needs to improve his total body strength. He has good acceleration off the ball, which enables him to get by on his quickness. Sherman hurt his knee during spring practice, but after a good summer program on the weights, he should see action this fall."

36 BABB, MIKE: K-P, 6-0, 170, So., Eugene (North)—Coach's comments: "Mike looked like our punter at the close of spring practice. He is capable of being as good as or better than Roy Geiger as a punter. He has the flexibility also to be a kickoff man with a good leg."

DATA: Mike is a transfer from Oregon State, where he shared the punting duties as a freshman.

18 *BACHTOLD, PAUL: WR, 5-11, 174, Sr., San Francisco (San Mateo JC)—Coach's comments: "Paul has made tremendous progress over last year as a wide receiver. He is running better routes and catching the ball better. He has much more confidence in his own abilities. He earned a starting job in spring practice. His blocking is much improved. Paul has worked much harder off the field, especially by extensive watching of films. DATA: Paul was Player of the Year in the Golden Gate JC Conference. Last year he caught five passes for 57 yards.

30 BAILEY, LARRY: TB, 6-1, 187, Fr., Roseburg—Coach's comments: "Larry is a walk-on who is new to the position of tailback and needs to gain more experience at the position. Being a weight-lifter, he has excellent strength, but lacks speed. He did a good job during spring ball, but because of a lack of experience, he will be playing scout team."

45 BEEKLEY, BRUCE: LB, 6-1, 223, Sr., Atherton, Cal. (Woodside)—Coach's comments: "Bruce had a good season for us last year, leading the club in tackles with 170, seven shy of the school record. He is a good dedicated college football player and one of our most valuable players. He was a leader for us this past spring, and we're counting on that same leadership throughout the season. Bruce is a good student on and off the field, with the desire to excel.

He is not overly-endowed with speed, but he makes up for it with hustle and instinct. He is a player with a nose for the ball. Bruce is excellent against the run, and has the size and physical abilities to play professional football."

DATA: Along with his 170 tackles (123 unassisted and 47 assisted), Bruce also caused four fumbles, knocked down five passes and tackled the ball carrier behind the line twice. He shared the Len Casanova "first year" award in 1976 with Bill Hoffman.

88 BEYER, TIM: TE, 6-3, 218, Sr., Eugene (Clackamas JC)—Coach's comment: "Tim was the biggest and most pleasant surprise for us on offense last spring, after being moved to tight end from linebacker. He could be as fine a blocker as there is in the league at his position. He combines toughness with great desire and quickness. Thought he is unproven as a receiver, he consistently caught the ball when thrown to him during the spring."

DATA: Tim played in every Ducks game the past two years. Last year at linebacker he was the team's fourth leading tackler with a total of 87, caused three fumbles, recovered one and knocked down three passes.

54 *BLASHER, WILLIE: LB, 6-1, 208, Sr., Richmond, Cal. (Contra Costa JC)—Coach's comments: "Willie is a blue chip linebacker who has the potential to play professional football. We expect him to not only do his physical part, but also to serve as one of the leaders of our football program. Willie has very quick feet and great striking ability. His weakness last year was in dropping back on pass protection, but he improved 100 percent on that during spring drills.

Willie should be one of the top linebackers in the conference this fall."

DATA: Number two tackler on the team last year with 91 unassisted and 38 assisted tackles. He led the team in recovered fumbles with four and tackled the opponent behind the line of scrimmage five times.

81—BROSTERHOUS, JON: WR, 6-1, 179, Fr., Klamath Falls (Union)—Coach's comments: "Jon is listed as a freshman again because of an ankle injury, suffered in a JV game last year, which kept him out of varsity action. He may be our 'smartest' receiver, with an ability to get as good a 'cushion' on a defender as any man we have. Jon's not blessed with great speed, but is able to sense what the defender is thinking and what his tendencies may be.

He will play a lot, and add to his family tradition at Oregon. His brother, Greg, lettered for the Ducks in 1971."

98 BRYAN, RUDY: DT, 6-3, 226, Sr., Barstow, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Rudy was a walk-on whom we put on scholarship. He's a very hard worker who was first team until he underwent knee surgery. He has the tendency to stand up in the line, and needs to improve his leg strength. What he lacks in speed he makes up for in determination. The question will be how much his knee surgery affects his play. He probably will not be ready for our opener."

9 *BRYANT, KENNY: SS, 6-2, 201, Sr., Compton, Cal. (LA Valley JC)—Coach's comments: "Physically Kenny is exactly what you would look for in a strong safety. He has great football speed. You run him in the 40, and he will consistently give you a 4.7 time, but out on the field he can catch 4.5 halfbacks from behind. Kenny is tough, has good strength and plays a very physical game. He can stop the run, and he led the club with four interceptions last season.

He's the strongest part of our secondary. An honorable mention All-American and second team all-coast safety, Kenny should be a high pro draft pick, if he plays up to his abilities."

DATA: Kenny had four interceptions last year, including one returned for 97 yards against Texas Christian. During that run, a TCU player came off the bench to tackle Kenny, but the run was ruled legal. He had the fourth most tackles of returning players.

95 CAIN, JON: TE, 6-2, 204, So., Victorville, Cal. (Apple Valley JC)—Coach's comments: "Jon is a walk-on out of junior college who attracted attention during the spring with his extreme aggressiveness, which went a long way to making up for his lack of size for the position. The role he plays will be determined by how much strength and weight he adds in the off season."

85 *CLARK, DAN: TE, 6-4, 217, Sr., Portland (Wilson)—Coach's comments: "Dan was battling Tim Beyer for the starting tight end position in spring practice, and strong competition for the position has made a positive difference for him this year. He started several games last year. He has excellent hands, and this year has shown clear improvement as a blocker."

DATA: Dan caught seven passes last year for 79 yards and an average of 11.3. His longest reception was 20 yards. He played in three games as a sophomore, catching two passes for 17 yards.

93 CLAY, PAUL: DT, 6-1, 226, Jr., Glendora, Cal. (Citrus JC)—Coach's comments: "Paul was an outstanding junior college player at Citrus Junior College. He has good strength, but needs to work on his agility and foot movement. He was injured most of spring practice and did not get the opportunity to play very much. So we didn't get a good look at him. He'll have to prove himself this fall."

22 *CLOUGH, RICH: FB, 6-2, 206, Jr., Pleasant Hill—Coach's comments: "Rich has made tremendous progress in terms of becoming a quality football player. With his increase in weight and his improved strength and blocking ability, he has a shot at the starting fullback position. Rich is an excellent special teams performer, and will be the up-back on the punt team this season."

42 COVINGTON, JEROME: CB, 5-8, 156, Jr., Los Angeles, Cal. (Mt. San Antonio)—Coach's comment: "A junior college transfer from Mt. San Antonio JC, Jerome earned himself the starting right corner position during spring practice. A very intelligent player and excellent student, he has good quickness and strength for his size. Jerome has the ability to concentrate on the receiver without looking in to the quarterback for the ball, which makes him good on one on one coverage. He's a very coachable athlete who should be able to step in and help strengthen our defensive secondary."

99 DALE, DERRICK: LB, 6-1, 220, Jr., Anchorage, Ak. (Service)—Coach's comments: "Derrick looked in spring practice as though he was beginning to reach his potential, which is unlimited. He has the speed and size to become an outstanding player. He gets 'around the football,' wherever it is, which indicates the kind of speed he has for a big man. He was a high school fullback, but has adjusted well to his defensive assignment."

14 *DALY, DAN: QB, 6-1, 195, So., Spokane, Wash. (University)—Coach's comments: "Dan has been helped by the change in our offensive plan away from using the quarterback as a runner, and made real progress in the spring. He always has been an intelligent player, but now he's throwing the ball with more authority. Last year he was throwing off his front foot too much and putting undue emphasis on follow-through. He still is getting his full body into the throw, but now is pushing off that back foot, too. He sees what the secondary is doing and not forcing the ball as much as a year ago, when he had a high interception ratio. He also has put on needed weight."

DATA: Daly shared the starting assignment with Tim Durando last year in three games when Jack Henderson was injured. He completed 22 of 47 passes for 177 yards and one touchdown. He threw four interceptions.

6 *DAVIS, DON: TB, 5-8, 176, So., Sacramento, Cal. (Norte Del Rio)—Coach's comments: "Don was hurt most of spring practice and did not see much action. He has the potential to be a good running back, but doesn't realize it. He has very quick feet, but needs to improve his strength. A part time starter last season, Don is a good runner out of the I-formation, because of his quick acceleration."

DATA: Don carried the ball 29 times last year for 79 yards, including one 16 yard run.

92 DION, TERRY: DE, 6-4, 242, Jr., Auburn, Wash.—Coach's comments: "Terry has good size and strength, but he needs to be consistent on every play. He has good quickness for a big guy, and should start at defensive end, but he has the ability to play either the tackle or end position. Terry is getting better at recognizing play patterns. He has the desire to improve himself with hard work. He gained a lot of strength working with the weights, and has the potential to be an outstanding player. Terry was injured much of last year and played only sparingly."

34 *DRESSER, JAMES: FB, 5-10, 195, So., Lacey, Wash. (North Thurston)—Coach's comments: "Jim switched from linebacker to fullback his freshman year. He's inexperienced at the position, but is learning every day. He is a hard worker who has the desire to be a good football player. Jim has good speed for a player his size, running a 4.6 '40.' He could be a contributing factor for Oregon this fall, but he needs more experience."

15 *DURANDO, TIM: FS, 6-1, 196, Jr., Wasco, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Tim, who was the starting quarterback against UCLA last season, switched to free safety this past spring. He is good against the pass with his ability to concentrate, but he needs to strengthen his tackling ability. If he learns to adapt his quarterbacking knowledge to his free safety position, he could help us a lot. Tim has good hands and will be handling punt returns for us this fall."

DATA: Completed 10 of 22 passes last year for 107 yards.

90 ELSHIRE, NEIL: DT, 6-5, 246, So., Albany (South)—Coach's comments: "Neil was a starter last season until he injured his knee tackling the TCU quarterback for a safety, and was out for the rest of the season. He should be an outstanding football player. He is strong, quick off the ball and a very smart player. He couldn't participate in contact drills during spring practice, but he will be one of the starting defensive ends this fall. Neil is a hard worker who has good pro possibilities." DATA: Neil was granted an extra year of eligibility because of his injury.

87 *FICCO, RANDY: DE, 6-4, 232, So., Vancouver, Wash. (Evergreen)—Coach's comments: "Randy switched from tight end to defensive end this past spring and is doing a good job. He has a lot of natural ability, and will see a lot of action. Being new at the position, he needs more experience and consistency. He is an aggressive player, but he needs to get off the ball quicker. Randy will gain the needed knowledge with more playing time."

40 FIGURES, JOE: SS, 5-8, 175, So., Sacramento, Cal. (Highlands)—Coach's comments: "We look to Joe to help our football squad on special teams. He is a hard-working, very coachable athlete. Joe does not yet excel at any one aspect of the game, but he is a good all-around athlete who can do many things well, to help the football program in many ways."

79 FINICLE, TIM: OG, 6-3, 205, Jr., Freemont, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Tim is a walk-on who came to Oregon when his family moved from California to Salem. He was hampered in spring practice by a loss of weight caused by illness during the winter. He needs to add about 30 pounds up to 235. He could be a player of the future once the weight problem is corrected."

63 *GOLDSMITH, VINCE: DT, 5-11, 223, So., Tacoma, Wash. (Mt. Tahoma)—Coach's comments: "Vince started every game as a freshman at nose guard for us last season. He has great quickness, and what he lacks in size he makes up in strength and quickness. He reacts very well to blocks because of his quickness. He had good speed and excellent balance. Vince is one of the strongest members of the team. He has total body strength and good 'explosion.' He split his time between track and football last spring. Vince qualified for the NCAA nationals in the shot put. He will be a starter this fall."

DATA: Had a total of 72 tackles last year and led the team in caused fumbles with four. Vince won the Casanova Award (named for former UO coach, Len Casanova) which is given to a first-year player who best exemplifies the athletic ideal at competitiveness, team inspiration and outstanding performances. Vince competed for the United States junior track team in Europe last summer. In high school, he held the interscholastic record in the shot put.

64 *GREATWOOD, STEVE: OG, 6-2, 246, Jr. (Eugene (Churchill))—Coach's comments: "Steve 'grew up' against Cal last fall when he had a long afternoon against some very physical players. He discovered what it takes for him to excel in this conference, and I think he is ready to excel. His weight has jumped from 228 to 246, and he had an awesome spring. He is a leader, and never has missed a day of practice. Despite his increase in weight, his speed has improved 2/10's of a second in the 40. His greatest improvement has come in pass blocking."

7 HAMILTON, LOKI: CB, 5-11, 178, Jr., Brooklyn, N.Y. (South Side)—Coach's comments: "Loki is a back up guy who has worked hard and has done a very good job. A walk-on this season, Loki is an inspiration to the squad with his hard work and desire to play. A good student off the field and a quick learner on it, he needs more experience at the cornerback position."

74 *HAMSTREET, MATT: DT, 6-4, 244, Sr., Aurora—Coach's comments: "Matt was a walk-on who earned a scholarship. He switched from offensive tackle to defensive tackle this spring and was doing well until he injured a ligament in his foot and missed most of spring practice. He needs to improve his quickness and avoid injuries to get in the practice time that he needs. He has the size and aggressiveness to play."

16 *HINKLE, BRYAN: LB, 6-2, 205, So., Silverdale, Wash. (Central Kitsap)—Coach's comments: "Bryan started out in our program as a quarterback, moved to strong safety, and ended up at outside linebacker, where he started the last five games of the season. Bryan lacks great upper body strength, but he has the ability to use his instincts, quickness, and mobility to overcome it. Bryan plays his position very intelligently, and seldom makes a mental mistake. If his work on weights this past summer pays the dividends expected, he could be one of the top sophomore players in the conference."

DATA: Bryan had the second most tackles by a freshman last year, with 49 total. He also had two knocked down passes and four tackles for losses.

73 HOFFMAN, BILL: OT, 6-3, 259, Sr., Beaverton—Coach's comments: "We've found we can count on Bill to turn in a top efficiency performance from start to finish. He probably is our most consistent offensive lineman in quality performance. Bill was shifted in the spring from strong side guard to quick side tackle. One of his biggest assets is his high intelligence and his understanding of how the play develops. He has a skilled reflex response to the play. There is no indecisiveness on his part. He always knows his target, and comes off the ball quickly enough to execute on every play."

DATA: He shared the Len Casanova "First Year" award in 1976 with Linebacker Bruce Beekley.

86 HOGENSEN, GREG: TE, 6-4, 210, Fr., Salem (Sprague)—Coach's comments: "Greg redshirted as a freshman, because of a back injury that he sustained in a high school all-star game. He was with the third unit during the spring. He could play, but needs to add strength, weight and aggressiveness first. He is a fine all-around athlete, having starred in basketball and long jumped better than 22 feet in high school. He can carry weight of around 230 pounds."

28 HUDNELL, RICK: CB, 6-1, 176, Sr., San Mateo, Cal. (Aragon)—Coach's comments: "Rick physically has good ability, speed and quickness. A good student in the classroom, he is one of the few defensive backs capable of playing either cornerback position. Rick, who suffered a broken leg (hairline) in the Washington game, started three games last season. A fine individual, Rick will try to help the team any way that he can."

24 JACKSON, CLARENCE: WR, 5-11, 189, Fr., Berkeley, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Clarence regains his freshman eligibility because of a knee injury that kept him out last year. He has good speed and hands. But he needs more time to feel 'at home.'"

3 JACKSON, CURTIS: WR, 6-2, 167, So., Boise, Ida.—Coach's comments: "Curt had a slow start in spring practice, dropping the ball a lot. He does not get open as well as the men playing ahead of him. Yet, in scrimmages he was on the catching end of more passes than any other receiver. He uses effective moves to work free and offset a lack of speed."

DATA: Curt is the son of former major league pitcher, Larry Jackson.

32 *JOHNSON, JIM: SS, 5-8, 193, Sr., Mojave, Cal. (Antelope Valley JC)—Coach's comments: "Jimmy was the leading ground-gainer for Oregon in 1976, redshirted last season and moved to strong safety midway through spring practice. Jimmy's presence has strengthened the secondary. He is a very intelligent player, a good hitter and a good leader. He is good against the pass, and can come up and stop the run. Jimmy has good strength, but needs to work on his speed and quickness. He's a very coachable young athlete."

DATA: Picked up 356 yards in 89 carries (4.0 average) in 1976 and caught 17 passes for 84 yards. He scored two touchdowns that year.

38 JONES, DWAYNE: TB, 5-11, 179, So., Eugene (Churchill) — Coach's comments: "Dwayne switched from defensive back to tailback during spring practice. When injuries hit veterans, he became the starting tailback in the spring game. Dwayne is a hard worker with deceiving speed because of his long strides. A local prospect from Churchill High, his smooth transition to tailback was a pleasant surprise. He showed that he has the ability to play. Could be good with some experience."

77 KAMINSKI, DALE: OT, 6-7, 259, Sr., Sequim, Wash. (Everett JC)—Coach's comments: "I'd rank Dale with Steve Kleffner as probably the toughest player on the offensive line. He went through every practice and ran every sprint—a feat for a big man. He broke his nose for the eighth time in spring practice, and also has undergone knee surgery. His main limitation is in speed. But he is very strong, and has done all the necessary things to play, having made the shift to offense. He's happy-go-lucky—one of the most popular guys on the team."

DATA: Dale was a specialty team standout as a junior before redshirting last year. He earned honorable mention JC All-America recognition at Everett.

5 KENNEDY, MIKE: QB, 6-2, 202, Jr., San Diego (San Diego City College)—Coach's comments: "Mike has as strong an arm as you will find. His 'drop' time in releasing the ball after the snap is very impressive. When he makes up his mind to throw, he will deliver the ball as quickly as anyone around. His biggest problem last year, when he redshirted, was getting acclimated to a new offensive system. He was not getting the opportunity for repetitive work because he had to share with four quarterbacks. It was different last spring, with Mike and Dan Daly as the only quarterbacks. He has studied on his own, watching more game film than any other player I know. His 'reading' of coverages has improved correspondingly. He has thrown a lot in the off season. His head is into it. Mike wants to be a pro, and he has the arm and the temperament for it. He's a leader, and takes command in the huddle."

DATA: Mike was at Nebraska as a freshman. He transferred to San Diego City College as a sophomore, throwing for 1,500 yards in seven games. He threw for a county record of 23 touchdowns and 1,900 yards as a high school senior.

96 KESLER, MIKE: DT, 6-4, 217, Jr., Seattle, Wash. (Walla Walla JC)—Coach's comments: "Mike was a first team junior college All-American at Walla Walla. He has good leadership qualities, and leads by example. Mike is a very determined and aggressive football player. He will play a lot of football for the Ducks. He has very good quickness off the ball, and he wants to be in on every play. Mike is also a very consistent performer. With size and strength, he will be an outstanding football player."

57 KLEFFNER, STEVE: C, 6-2, 255, Sr., Tigard (Mt. Hood CC)—Coach's comments: "Steve had won the starting job at center last season, then broke his ankle in practice prior to the second game and was sidelined the rest of the season. But the Ducks are fortunate to have him back for an additional year of eligibility. He should be one of the top centers in the conference. He is an outstanding blocker at the pivot position, and is outstanding in snapping the ball. He could have taken it easy during the spring, but we couldn't keep him out of the action. He had to be reminded to avoid rushing his scrimmage activity until he was fully able to push off on the ankle that had been injured."

78 *LAUGHLIN, PETE: OT, 6-4, 250, Sr., Berkeley, Cal. (Laney JC)—Coach's comments: "Pete has the ability to play in the NFL. He is a fine natural athlete who spent hour after hour in the weight room to offset having missed the last two spring practices because of knee surgery. A navy veteran, he is the 'old man' of the team. He had a great game against UCLA's Manu Tuiaosopo last year. In films we viewed of other UCLA games, we never saw anyone else neutralize Tuiaosopo like Pete did."

68 *MATHEWS, JAMEY: OG, 6-2, 247, So., Portland (Parkrose)—Coach's comments: "Jamey's effort to make himself a starting football player has been unexcelled by anyone on the squad. His size has increased from 220 last year to 247 in the spring—a product of hard work on the weights. As a result, he now is considered the squad's strongest offensive lineman. He has the potential—with continued strength and weight work—to become an all-conference caliber player before his college career ends."

71 McDOUGALL, PAT: OT, 6-6, 262, Jr., Enumclaw, Wash.—Coach's comments: "Pat is an 'old logger' from upper Washington, where his dad is a high school principal. He started several games as a freshman and sophomore. Pat had a problem in short yardage and goal line situations last year. But he overcame that in the spring by coming off the ball and dominating the defender in a one-on-one situation. He is much more confident and mature, and has begun to give us some vocal leadership on the field. Pat never misses a practice. He was the only freshman starter in 1976."

76 *McGILL, KEVIN: OT, 6-7, 260, So., Portland (Jackson)—Coach's comments: "Kevin is young and inexperienced, but improved in every practice during the spring. How far he has come is indicated by the fact that we feel he soon could get to the point where he could relieve Bill Hoffman without any serious dropoff in performance. He has the potential to be a great player before he graduates. He's big enough to block out the sun. Once he develops the self-assurance that will come with game experience, he is going to start knocking people down on every play."

48 MORRELL, PHIL: K, 5-9, 183, So., Lake Oswego—Coach's comments: "Phil is a walk-on who answered any doubts anyone might have had about his ability to connect from distance when he kicked a 44-yard field goal into a stiff wind during the spring. He also kicked one from 37 yards. We knew he was accurate from short range, but if he continues his improvement, he could provide us with a long range threat."

75 *NADO, STEVE: C, 6-5, 233, Jr., Portland (Central Catholic)—Coach's comments: "Steve has warmed up to the center position, after being a bit uncomfortable there when we first shifted him from defense last year. He did not once fumble the quarterback exchange in the spring, and his blocking is greatly improved. He won't handle the long snap. But center should be solid for us this fall because of the competition between the two Steves (Nado and Kleffner)."

43 NOLAN, MIKE: FS, 5-11, 168, So., Metairie, La. (Woodside)—Coach's comments: "Mike is the son of Dick Nolan, head coach of the New Orleans Saints. He has the knowledge and the desire to be a good player, but he needs to work on his speed. Mike is a very intelligent player, fundamentally sound, and a good hitter. He came out of spring practice as the number one free safety."

89 *PAGE, KEN: WR, 5-11, 173, Sr., Inglewood, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Ken made some fine catches for us in clutch situations last year. He is durable and has shown he can take some good shots. He often goes over the middle for a reception, and that's where you take punishment. With a little more consistency, he can be a pro prospect."

DATA: Ken led the team in receiving last year with 40 receptions for 591 yards, three touchdowns and an average of 14.8. His longest reception was 70 yards. He caught three for 39 yards as a sophomore. Last year he ranked eighth in the league. Ken also was effective as a rusher, carrying the ball on the end around 11 times for 63 yards. He returned 10 kickoffs for an average of 18.5 and four punts for 11 yards.

67 *PRICE, RICK: DT, 6-5, 252, So., Tacoma, Wash. (Wilson)—Coach's comments: "Rick moved from offensive tackle to defensive tackle last year, and has the potential to be a fine football player with hard work. He is big and strong, but needs to learn to bend his knees and strike. He must learn to improve his consistency, effort and execution. Needs to work on his quickness."

20 *RADCLIFF, ED: TB, 5-11, 185, Sr., Columbus, O. (Bishop Waldorf)—Coach's comments: "Ed was a part-time starter last season, and was the starting tailback in spring practice until injured. He has an excellent attitude, and wants to become a good football player. Ed can accelerate very quickly and split the tacklers, but he must learn to hang onto the football. He is constantly improving, and since the I-formation is ideal for his style of running, he will be a contributor next fall."

tributor next fall."

DATA: Ed was the top ground gaining tailback on last year's team with 188 yards in 43 carries. He was a walk-on three years ago and redshirted 1976 with an injury to his foot sustained in an industrial accident.

17 REEDAL, TOM: P, 6-2, 200, Sr., Eugene (North)—Coach's comments: "Tom has a good leg—a live one. He has improved in his kicking consistency. If he can continue to progress in that area, he could help us. He was on the squad last year, but played only in junior varsity games."

33 RENSTROM, CURT: TB, 5-10, 212, Jr., Menlo Park, Cal. (Woodside)—Coach's comments: "Curt is one of the best blockers in the backfield. He missed most of spring practice due to illness. Curt has the desire to become a good player. He runs very strong up the middle, but could improve his speed. He can catch the ball very well coming out of the backfield. Curt has become a strong runner through the weight program."

10 RICHMOND, ROCK: CB, 5-9, 165, Jr., Los Angeles, Cal. (LA Valley JC)—Coach's comments: "Rock was considered by many to be the finest cornerback in junior college. A first team junior college All-American, he immediately established himself as the number one left cornerback. Rock has the speed, quickness and desire to be the best cornerback in the conference. He already is one of the leaders in the secondary, leading by example. Rock has the best concentration on the team. He worked on the weights this past summer, and, with the increase in strength, could possibly be a pro prospect."

centration on the team. He worked on the weights this past summer, and, with the increase in strength, could possibly be a pro prospect."

56 ROBACK, RYAN: C, 5-11, 225, So., Maui, Ha.—Coach's comments: "Ryan is a walk-on of last fall who has been shifted to center from guard. He used the weight room well to add quickness to his size. He has a knack for keeping his feet and making contact low. He underwent knee surgery, and his condition at the start of fall drills will determine whether or not he will be red-shirted."

27 RUDOLPH, BUTCH: CB, 6-0, 181, Jr., La Jolla, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Butch has the physical ability to be a good cornerback. He has the size, and excellent speed, but he needs to become more physical to be a starting player. Butch is an outstanding student."

61 DELEGATO, MIKE: C. 6-4 220, Fr., Portland (Central Catholic)—Coach's Comments: "Mike is a good all-around athlete who was listed as a linebacker at the start of last season, but has since been switched to center. He redshirted last year. He is our quickest center, but he needs to add weight and strength. We feel he has a good future."

35 *SCHWARTZ, RICK: DE, 6-2, 216, So., Auburn, Wash.—Coach's comments: "Rick moved from middle linebacker to defensive end during spring practice. He had good quickness and gets off the ball in a hurry, but he needs to work on his play recognition, consistency of effort and execution. Rick has good strength and is effective on plays directly at him, but he must learn to keep his pad level down and improve his tackling ability."

94 *SETTERLUND, SCOTT: DT, 6-4, 229, So., Galt, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Scott became a starter at defensive tackle toward the end of last year. He has very good 'pad level,' and stays close to the ground. He put on some needed extra weight, but he must improve his upper body strength. Scott was bothered by a shoulder problem during spring practice, but he will play a lot of football this fall."

26 SMITH, TIM: CB, 5-9, 170, Jr., Calton, Cal. (San Bernardino JC)—Coach's comments: "Tim had the starting right corner spot, but was beaten out by Jerome Covington in spring practice. He's a good, physical player, sound on the run. Tim was hampered by a foot injury during most of spring practice. Hopefully, he will be competing for the starting job throughout the season."

7 TAYLOR, ERNEST: FS, 6-3, 173, So., Sacramento, Cal. (Cordova)—Coach's comments: "Ernest has not taken very good care of himself physically. He was injured all spring and missed out on needed experience. He has all the qualifications to be a good player: size, speed, quickness and leaping ability. He needs to improve his tackling technique, and cut down on his injuries to become an effective player."

29 *VAUGHAN, CHRIS: WR, 5-9, 168, Sr., Santa Rosa, Cal. (Santa Rosa JC)—Coach's comments: "Chris is a senior walk-on with the high motivation required of one with but one season to go. He was one of the hardest working players in spring practice. He rarely dropped the ball. But his small size gives him trouble getting off the line of scrimmage and creates problems against bigger cornerbacks."

59 VILTZ, CHUCK: DT, 6-0, 204, Fr., The Dalles—Coach's comments: "Chuck is a walk-on candidate who has done a good job. He has good quickness. Chuck gets off the ball quick, but he needs to become more consistent in his play and gain strength and weight. Chuck is a hard worker, but he lacks experience."

46 *WEBB, TOM: LB, 6-4, 222, Sr., Los Angeles, Cal.—Coach's comments: "Tom has the height, weight, and speed necessary to be a pro draft pick. However, he must improve his consistency of performance to be the type of player that we expect him to be this fall. Tom improved a great deal last spring, and was playing well last year until his injury in the USC game. We are looking forward to having him on the field this fall."

41 *WILLIAMS, VINCE: FB, 6-0, 218, So., Tacoma, Wash. (Mt. Tahoma)—Coach's comments: "Vince is a very strong runner. He gained 20 pounds working on the weights. We switched him from tailback to fullback last season and he turned out to be a pleasant surprise. Vince ended up starting most of the late season games. He is very impressive at breaking tackles. He has good speed, but he must learn to pick up his feet when he accelerates. He is getting better at blocking, and will be battling it out for the starting fullback position."

DATA: While sharing the fullback duties last year with Kim Nutting and Jeff Wood, Vince gained 318 and lost just two in 71 carries. He was a teammate of defensive standout Vince Goldsmith at Mt. Tahoma High School in Tacoma.

31 *WOOD, JEFF: FB, 6-3, 229, Jr., The Dalles—Coach's comments: "Jeff was a big surprise in spring practice. He worked very hard jumping rope to improve his balance and footwork, and the hard work has paid off. Jeff is a good blocker and a strong runner who breaks tackles. He has good football instincts, but needs to work on his pass catching ability. He is a hard worker, and a good special teams performer. He had a good game against USC last year."

DATA: In 38 carries last year, Jeff was never stopped for a loss. He gained 190 yards for a 5.0 average. His longest run, 25 yards, was the longest rushing touchdown run last year.

55 YATSKO, STUART: OT, 6-4, 242, Fr., Portland (Jesuit)—Coach's comments: "Stu has made enough progress to make it possible—should it become desirable—to consider shifting Steve Greatwood elsewhere in the offensive interior. Stu runs a five-flat 40-yard dash—impressive for a man who is 6-4, 242. His greatest progress in spring practice was in being able to sustain a block. Stu was redshirted last year."

Autzen Stadium

A dream was realized when the Ducks moved into their new football facility, 42,000-seat Autzen Stadium in the fall of 1967.

It was through the untiring efforts and unflagging dedication of former athletic director, Leo Harris, that Autzen Stadium became a reality. The new facility provides Oregon football teams with one of the most modern and economical football structures in the nation.

Autzen Stadium was built at a cost of 2.5 million dollars, of which close to $1 million came from accrued athletic department savings. Another million dollars was raised from 1,000 stadium sponsors who contributed $1,000 each for an option on two seats in prime location and protected from foul weather by a cantilever roof. The option is for 25 years. Additional money came from subscription by stadium builders, who for sums averaging $100 secured options on two seats for five years. The stadium sponsor drive for $1 million lasted three months and is considered one of the most effective fund-raising ventures in the state's history.

There are several reasons for the relatively inexpensive cost of the stadium. The land had been purchased 10 years prior at a cost of $1,000 per acre. The stadium is an earth-fill bowl with all material taken exclusively from the site.

Autzen Stadium, which replaced historic 47-year-old Hayward Field and its 21,500-seat capacity, is named for the late Thomas J. Autzen, a Portland lumberman, sportsman and philanthropist. Autzen was the founder of the Autzen Foundation, which gave the University of Oregon $250,000 to help finance the project.

The stadium is situated on a 90-acre site adjacent to the North Bank Park area of Eugene. The site is north of the Willamette River and is approximately one-quarter mile north of the main campus. Autzen Stadium is easily accessible for students and out of town fans alike. Interstate 5, which runs within one-quarter mile, and Interstate 105, within a few hundred feet, provide fluid access for traffic from both the northern and southern parts of the state. A footbridge also provides easy access between the campus and Autzen Stadium.

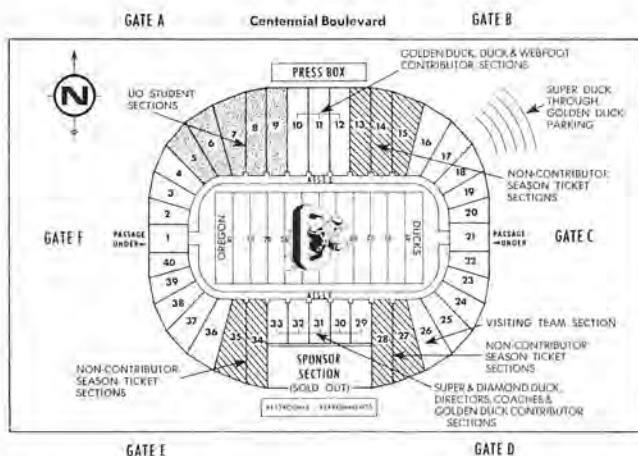

The home of the Oregon Ducks has several outstanding features. There is no track in the stadium. Nearly 27,000 seats are located on the sidelines. The first row of seats is just 30 feet from the sideline and the 50-yard line is six feet from ground level. This gradually rises to a height of 12 feet from ground level in the end zone. Thus, every spectator has a good view of the entire field.

Only in its 12th year of operation this fall, Autzen underwent a face-lifting in 1969 as far as the playing surface is concerned, with the installation of artificial turf (AstroTurf) and field lighting. In addition, four Eugene high schools also call Oregon Autzen Stadium home. The artificial turf was replaced with a new AstroTurf surface in 1976.

There is parking for 8,500 cars and buses adjacent the stadium. Autzen Stadium has a modern scoreboard which was the first collegiate scoreboard in the West with a message board.

The first game played in Autzen Stadium found nationally-ranked Colorado defeating Oregon 17-13 on September 23, 1967, before a regional television audience.

The University of Oregon is one of the nation's leading research institutions. Established in 1876, the University currently enrolls more than 16,000 students, and has more than 85,000 alumni.

The University was created through the efforts of Lane County. On October 19, 1872, the Oregon Legislature passed an act to create, organize and locate the University. During the next four years, area citizens donated time, money and effort to establish the first UO building, Deady Hall.

Oregon's first 177 students were admitted on October 16, 1876. The faculty of five taught both college preparatory courses and traditional college courses.

Its 1,000-member faculty includes many Fulbright Scholars and Danforth and Guggenheim Fellows. Four faculty scientists are members of the National Academy of Science. Recognition for teaching, writing, lecturing and research has been conferred on the faculty by the National Endowments for the Arts and Humanities and the Ford, Carnegie and National Science Foundations.

The University is one of only 24 public institutions honored with membership in the American Association of Universities.

The campus has grown from a single building on a treeless knoll to more than 40 buildings covering 250 acres.

The University consists of a College of Arts and Sciences (sciences and letters) with departments in the sciences, social sciences and humanities, and 10 professional schools and colleges. The professional areas include business administration; education; health, physical education and recreation; architecture and allied arts; community service and public affairs; journalism; law; librarianship, music and graduate studies.

The University Library's collection of 1.2 million volumes is the largest in the state.

The University has a Museum of Art and a Museum of Natural History which house collections drawn from all over the world. More than 2,500 local citizens are registered borrowers in the University Library and more than 90,000 persons tour the Museum of Art each year.

Each of the University's 12 presidents has brought to the institution a vision of dedication to academic excellence. In his inaugural remarks, President William Boyd observed: "... In its first century, the University achieved distinction by reflecting the highest aspirations of four generations of Oregonians . . . My hope for those of us who serve here now is that we will have the vision and courage to shape for this University a future worthy of its past . . ."

The Administration

DR. WILLIAM B. BOYD President, University of Oregon

Dr. William B. Boyd is the 12th president of the University of Oregon.

He became the University's chief executive officer in 1975, after serving seven years as the President of Central Michigan University.

Born Feb. 2, 1923, in Mt. Pleasant, S.C., he earned his A.B. degree from Presbyterian (S.C.) College in 1946, M.A. degree from Emory (Ga.) University in 1947, and his Ph.D. degree in modern European history from the University of Pennsylvania in 1954.

After military service in the U.S. Navy, he began his career in higher education as a faculty member at Michigan State University in 1953. He served as Dean of Faculty at Alma (Mich.) College from 1958 to 1965; Director of the Honors Program at The Ohio State University, 1965 to 1966; Vice Chancellor at the University of California, Berkeley, 1966 to 1968; and as President at Central Michigan from 1968 to June 30, 1975.

He has served on the Keast Commission on Academic Tenure, the Advisory Council of the Danforth Associate Program for the Danforth Foundation and the Governing Board of the Academic Collective Bargaining Information Service, as chairman of the Michigan state-based committee, National Endowment for the Humanities, and vice-president of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

He has been awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Alma College and an honorary Doctor of Letters degree from Presbyterian College. His memberships include Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Alpha Theta.

Dr. Boyd is the co-author of two books, "The U.S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance in World War II" and "A Short History of Degaussing," and has written published articles on student activism and collective bargaining.

JOHN CAINE

Director of Athletics

In little over two years at the helm of the University of Oregon varsity athletic program, John Caine, director of athletics, has made the University of Oregon a focus of national attention.

He and his staff successfully sponsored an unprecedented four NCAA championship events (first round basketball, gymnastics, track and field and golf) in Eugene in the space of but 89 days in 1978. At the same time, he has initiated impressive new fund-raising programs that have enabled the department to meet the challenge of vast new economic demands.

Caine came to Oregon in the spring of 1976, and moved quickly to link the efforts of veteran staff members with vigorous new staff additions in the drive to maintain a high standing for the U of O in intercollegiate athletics.

In Caine, Oregon gained the services of a man with uncommon credentials that span the spectrum from coach to scholar. With those credentials came a free-thinker with the perception to view intercollegiate sport from the perspectives of both the athlete and the academician.

A native of Ashland, Ky., he earned bachelor's and master's degrees at UCLA and a doctorate in education from the University of Northern Colorado.

After a period as coach and teacher in California high schools, he became chairman of the Physical Education Department and head basketball coach at Lea (Minn.) College in 1966. He advanced to the basketball coaching assignment at Eastern Illinois University and, in succession, the athletic directorships at Fullerton (Calif.) State University and San Jose State University before his appointment at UO last February.

Caine's own words provide the clearest view of how he intends to foster an even more successful—and financially viable—athletic program at the University of Oregon:

"Our goal is to stimulate interest in all sports. But economic realities force us to recognize the special needs of the two main revenue-producing sports. It is those two sports—football and basketball—which generate the revenue that makes it possible for the University of Oregon to continue its non-revenue sports.

"We intend to do everything we can to help football and basketball fully develop their potential, because the success of those two programs will produce the funds that will make it possible for the potential of all other sports to be realized."

Caine and his wife, Marilyn, have two daughters, Mrs. Cinda Caine Harris and Nancy, and a son, Chip.

ED SWARTZ

Associate Athletic Director

Ed Swartz has become a driving force in virtually every area of the Athletic Department's wide-ranging activities since assuming the post of assistant athletic director in March of 1977. He advanced to the Associate directorship in 1978. His primary assignment at the outset—to handle the increasingly complex logistics of department personnel and facilities—now has been broadened to include promotion and fund-raising responsibilities.

A former assistant athletic director at the University of California at Santa Barbara, Ed's move to Oregon came only five months after he had accepted the combined assignments of academic adviser and running back coach at Weber State.

Swartz, 43, a native of Chicago, is a graduate of the University of Northern Iowa, where he began his coaching career. From there he moved to Cal Poly (San Luis Obispo), where he earned his master's degree while serving as freshman football coach and head trainer. He joined the football staff at Santa Barbara in 1967, becoming assistant athletic director in 1970. He also was wrestling coach during his last two seasons at Santa Barbara.

His in-depth experience as an events director, facilities coordinator, fund-raiser, administrator and promoter caused Ducks athletic director, John Caine, to describe Swartz as "ideally suited for his multi-faceted assignment."

LEONARD J. CASANOVA

Athletic Director Emeritus & Special Projects

Len Casanova, who long has represented the best in Oregon football, added to his many laurels when he was elected to the National Football Hall of Fame in 1977.

After 16 seasons as Oregon's highly successful football coach and four years as Director of Athletics, Casanova officially retired in 1970. He now serves the Athletic Department as a fund-raiser and on other special projects.

In 21 years as a head coach at Santa Clara, Pitt and Oregon, Casanova won 104 games, lost 95 and tied 11. His 16-year Oregon total was 82-73-8 but he recorded a 47-31-4 record over the last eight seasons. He stood 14th in victories among active head coaches prior to the start of his final season, 1966. He is past president of the American Football Coaches Association. Casanova took an unheralded 1957 Oregon team to the Rose Bowl and his 1958 team ranked second in the nation on defense. His 1960 team played in the Liberty Bowl and his 1963 team defeated SMU, 21-14, in the Sun Bowl.

Casanova coached in the East-West Shrine Game three times, the Hula Bowl twice and the College All-American game.

BECKY SISLEY

Director of Women's Athletics

Becky Sisley is the woman responsible for building one of the most successful and most respected women's athletics programs in the Northwest.

Sisley has directed women's athletics at the University of Oregon since the inception of Women's Intercollegiate Athletics (WIA) in 1973. The women's program has grown to include 10 sports, nine of which have competed in the national championships sponsored by the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW).

The energetic athletic director has also been a leader as a coach. Sisley coached field hockey at Oregon from 1967 to 1976, taking the UO women to a berth in the first-ever national collegiate hockey tournament in 1976. Sisley continues to serve as Oregon's softball coach, a position she has held since 1965. Oregon won the Northwest College Women's Sports Association (NCWSA) softball title in 1976 and 1977 and represented AIAW Region IX in the 1976 Women's College World Series.

She was the 1977-78 president of the NCWSA, the regional organization which governs athletic competition for women in Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Idaho, and Montana. She served on the executive committee for the AIAW (the national governing body for women's athletics) in 1971-72 and on the executive council for the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation's Division for Girls and Women in Sports (DGWS) in 1969-70.

WENDELL BASYE

Faculty Representative

Speaking for the University of Oregon at highest levels of National Collegiate and Pac-10 Conference deliberations is the University's Faculty Athletic Representative, Wendell Basye.

Basye, a professor of law, also is president of the Pac-10 Conference Council consisting of Conference athletic directors and faculty representatives.

He joined the University faculty in 1957. A 1941 graduate of the University of Nebraska, he received his law degree in 1947 from the University of Virginia. He is a veteran of World War II and a retired navy captain.

A noted speaker, Basye has written for several professional publications.

He served as regional counsel for the Internal Revenue Service from 1955 to 1957, when he came to the University of Oregon, where his subject areas have been: business planning and advanced taxation, estate planning and succession taxes, federal income tax and partnerships and corporations.

LARRY STANDIFER

Team Trainer

Larry Standifer, University of Oregon head trainer, has gained national preeminence in his profession for his services to athletes in national level competition. While his primary assignment is to see to the training needs of U of O athletes, he almost annually serves as head trainer or special consultant for national championship events.

Standifer became head trainer in 1968, two years after coming to the University as head of the physical therapy department of Student Health Services. He is a 1955 graduate of Willamette University, and received a physical therapy certificate from USC.

HERB YAMANAKA

Ticket Manager

Herb Yamanaka, a man of varied interests and talents, has administered the wide-ranging responsibilities of the athletic ticket office since 1972. In addition to all regular University varsity athletic events, his concerns include ticket management for all regional, national and special athletic events on University facilities.

The Athletic News Bureau

GEORGE BERES Director

Director of the University of Oregon Athletic News Bureau, with responsibility for media relations and publications, is

George Beres. He came to Oregon in 1976, bringing with him the experience of 14 years of athletic publicity in the Big Ten Conference, where he was Sports Information Director at Northwestern University. He also handled play-by-play broadcasts of Big Ten football and basketball for radio stations in Chicago and Evanston. A graduate of Northwestern's Medill School of Journalism, he was news director of the American Forces Korea Network while in the army. He edited a new book by track coach Bill Dellinger, entitled, "Winning Running."

JANET HEINONEN Assistant Director

Janet Heinonen, who previously served as sports information representative for women's intercollegiate athletics, is in her third year as assistant director of the Bureau. Her deep involvement in and commitment to the growth of women's varsity athletics have made her especially qualified to interpret all aspects of the rapidly emerging women's program. A 1972 graduate of the University of Oregon, she is an active long distance runner. Her husband, Tom, is coach of the women's team. She was a track coach in Chile while serving in the Peace Corps.

RON PARADIS Assistant Director

Ron Paradis was named to the newly-created position of assistant director of the Athletic News Bureau in 1977. A 1977 graduate of the University of Oregon School of Journalism, he was recipient of the Art Litchman Memorial Scholarship, named after the University's first Sports Information Director. While serving as student assistant in the Bureau, his major assignment was the producing of the media guide and meet programs for track and field. He edited the 1978 NCAA Championship program for track and field. A 1973 graduate of West Linn High School, Ron has worked part-time for the Portland Oregonian and the Oregon City Enterprise Courier.

JAMES BENNETT
SID Student Assistant

Statistical updating and a major portion of the player sketches in the football media guide were produced by Jim Bennett, student assistant in the Athletic News Bureau. A junior, Jim last year handled swimming publicity and assisted in football.

PAT FRY
News Bureau Secretary

Pat Fry is the first secretary to be assigned to the Athletic News Bureau, and has been responsible for a major overhaul in the Bureau's filing system over the past year. A veteran of the athletic department, she had spent five years on assignment in the athletic ticket office before assuming the News Bureau position in 1976. A life-long resident of Eugene, Pat has responsibility for such special assignments as administering the department's speaker's bureau and distribution of media credentials.

Football Secretarial Staff

DOROTHY LANDRY

Dorothy Landry is nearing a full decade's service in the Athletic Department, having joined the staff in 1969. She assumed the football secretary's post in 1972. She is an Oregon native and a graduate of the University of Oregon with a degree in sociology and elementary education.

NOREEN MASON

Noreen Mason's secretarial services are shared by the football staff and by the wrestling and golf coaches. She is a graduate of South Eugene High School and Merritt Davis Business College. Before joining the Ducks in April, she was employed by the CIA in Washington, D.C.

Oregon Radio Network

Oregon was scheduled to enter the 1978 football season with a radio network that would beam accounts of Ducks games, home and away, throughout the state. Anchor station once again is KUGN, Eugene (590), which has played a prominent role in the promoting of U of O athletics year around. Play-by-play once again will be in the hands of one of the top broadcasting professionals on the West Coast, Mike Stone. Mike has become recognized as the "voice of the Ducks" through his broadcasts of Oregon football, basketball and track.

Advance commitments for network membership came early in the summer from the following stations:

KAGI, Burns; KBBR, North Bend; KBND, Bend; KCMX, Ashland; KDUN, Reedsport; KGAR, Vancouver/Portland; KHPE-FM, Albany; KLBM, La Grande; KODL, The Dalles; KRNR, Roseburg; KRNS, Burns; KTDO, Toledo; KUGN, Eugene; KUMA, Pendleton; KVAS, Astoria, and KWRC, Woodburn.

Oregon TV Show

Oregon football has a regular time slot on Sunday afternoon television this fall over Eugene station KEZI-TV. The hour-long show, produced and hosted by KEZI-TV sports director, Rick Meeder, includes highlights of the previous day's game, live interviews with players and coaches and a hot-line segment during which Coach Brooks answers viewers' questions. The show is carried over Channel 9 (Cable 10 in Eugene) and was scheduled to be carried over the state network of OEPBS at a later time each week. Meeder, the dean of local television sportscasters, is a familiar figure in coverage of Ducks football and basketball. A year ago, he was issued player equipment and went through spring practice with the Ducks for a special on the game from the player's perspective.

Oregon's Media Services

The goal of Oregon's Athletic News Bureau is to provide services that will support the media in their coverage of Oregon athletic events. Most of the services are described below. If you have a special need, contact the bureau director, George Beres, or one of his staff at:

McArthur Court, University of Oregon,
Eugene, Ore. 97403
Phone: (503) 686-5494.

SUMMARY OF SERVICES

CREDENTIALS

Requests for media tickets for games at Autzen Stadium should be addressed to the Athletic News Bureau (above). Parking credentials will be included when requested. The "will call" window for those picking up tickets the day of the game is in back of the press box.

PHOTOGRAPHY

STATISTICS

A play-by-play sheet will be distributed at the close of each quarter. Team statistics and individual leaders will be distributed at halftime. Final team and individual statistics, lineups, substitutions and scoring summary will be distributed after the game. Location of coaches' post-game interview area will be announced in the press box.

TELECOPIERS

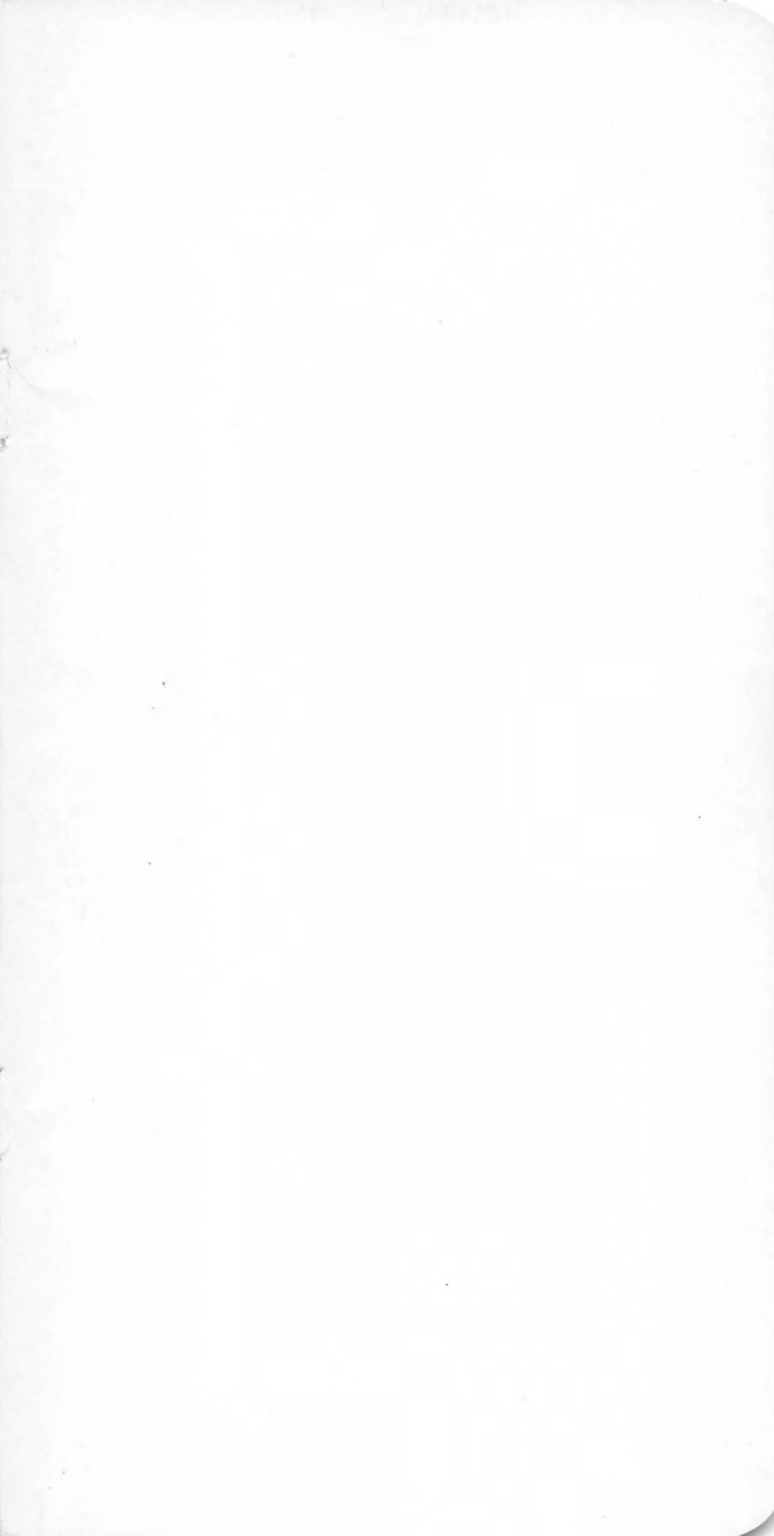

Press box space is provided for both Canfax and Sportscom operations. Media intending to use such transmission must make their own arrangements with the company of their choice. They also must make arrangements with the company for a telephone, or directly if they bring their own transmitting machines. Pacific Northwest Bell can be reached at 343-8601.

AWAY GAMES

Requests for credentials and services at away game sites must be addressed to the host sports information director. Names, addresses and phone numbers of opposing schools' SIDs may be found elsewhere in this guide.

A SUGGESTION

Bring sunglasses for daytime games. The press box faces south.

The Coaches
